INTRODUCTION

A Śāstra which comes from teacher to disciple from time immemorial is called Āgama. That which gives needed knowledge and describes the means for the welfare here in this world as well as in the other world is called Tantra. Any methodically arranged collection of Texts or verses is called Saṁhitā. So Āgama or Tantra or Saṁhitā speak about the same variety of Texts.

The Vedas are also coming down from teacher to disciple and as such they also could be called Āgama-s. The Āgamas are called Śruti literature as they come down by tradition from teacher to disciple and they are also considered as revealed literature. In order to distinguish Vedas from the well known Āgamas, Veda-s were called Nigama-s.

The Āgamas or Tantras are grouped into three varieties : Śaiva, Vaiṣṇava and Śākta. Those which accept Śiva as supreme and deal mainly with the worship of Śiva and his retinue are called as Śaiva Āgamas, those which state Viṣṇu as supreme are Vaiṣṇava Āgamas and those which describe the Śakti of the Goddess as supreme are called as Śākta Āgamas. The Śākta tantras are theoretically enumerated as 64. They are grouped into two kinds Dakṣiṇa and Vāma : right hand school and left hand school. The Vaiṣṇava Āgamas are sub divided as pāñcarātra and Vaikhānasa. The Āgamas revealed by Sage Vikhanas to his disciples Bhṛgu, Marīci, Atri and Kāśyapa and handed over by them to the world are Vaikhānasa Āgamas.

The Pāñcarātra Āgamas are three fold namely (1) Divya : revealed directly by Lord Nārāyaṇa, such as Sātvata saṁhitā, Pauṣkara Saṁhitā and Jayākhyasaṁhitā, (2) Munibhāṣita : handed over by the sages such as Bharadvājasaṁhitā, Pārameśvarasaṁhitā and Pādmasaṁhitā and (3) Āptamanuṣya prokta : written by man whose words are trustworthy. The total number of pāñcarātra texts so far known are enumerated as 215 or 225 but only a few are so far available.

The Śaiva Āgamas are four fold : Kāpāla, Kālāmukha, pāśupata and Śaiva. The last one is of two kinds : Kāśmīr Śaiva and Siddhānta Śaiva. Kāśmīr Śaivism is mainly followed in North India. Siddhānta Śaivism is in vogue in South India only. There are 28 basic texts in Siddhānta school : Kāmika, Yogaja, Cintya, Kāraṇa, Ajita, Dīpta, Sūkṣma, Sahasra, Aṁśumad, Suprabheda, Vijaya, Niśvāsa, Svāyambhuva, Anala, Vīra, Raurava, Makuṭa, Vimala, Candrajñāna, Mukhabimba, Prodgīta, Lalita, Siddha, Santāna, Śarvokta, Pārameśvara, Kiraṇa and Vātula. Each of these Āgamas has some supplements called upāgamas the total number of which comes to 207. Sadāśiva the Sakala form of the Parama Śiva, the supreme, revealed the first ten of the 28 Āgamas to 10 Śivas such as Praṇava and the later 18 to the 18 Rudras such as Anādirudra. So the first group of 10 called as Śivabheda and second group as rudrabheda. The tantrāvatāra paṭala in each Āgama gives details of these Āgamas and upāgamas, their extent, the teachers, disciples, the tradition etc.

The temples are the most glorious institutions of our country. They are the true abodes of the Divine. It is the temples that brought about unity in religion in the whole of the country than any other institution. They are the true symbols of the cultural unity of India, comprehending within them all classes of the people.

The Temples are the true abodes of the Divine. The images that we see in the temples are not mere idols as many suppose, but are as per texts, true incarnations of the divine. The divine power is brought into an image through certain prescribed ceremonials. For the proper performance of such ceremonials, there are two factors that are essential, one is the precision and accuracy of performance and the other is the personal character of the performer. It is not true to say Hindus are idol worshippers. We did not worship bare idol. The image in Temples is not a mere symbol of something that is intangible, accepted as a means of evolution to grasp the Absolute. A symbol has a value only as having a significance attached to it through the subjective activity of the person. But the Divine Nature of the Temple Image is absolutely independent of the subjective activity of the worshipper. It is an objective reality in the image as much as life in our body is a reality. This fact could be easily ascertained if one goes through the authoritative texts namely the agama-s which deal with each and everything pertaining to temples—architecture, consecration, rituals, priests, devotees and philosophy. The Śaiva Āgamas are the sole authority for the Śaivite temples, the Pāñcarātra and Vaikhānasa Āgamas for the Vaiṣṇava temples. The rules have been laid down in these texts. From selection of the site for the temple, up to the installation of the Divine, the daily, occasional, yearly and expiation rites to be conducted in such temples, and details about the persons who are to conduct all these rituals are all explained in detail in these Āgamas.

Thus, it is very important to have all available Āgamas published. Some of the Vaikhānasa Āgamas and Pāñcarātra texts are available in print. But many are yet to be published. Of the Śaivāgamas: Kāmika, Kāraṇa, Suprabheda and Vīrāgama[illegible] were printed in grantha script by Alagappa Mudaliyar or his family in the Śivajñānabodha Press at Chintadripet, Madras long ago and all of them are out of print at present. Sri C. Swaminatha Gurukkal, Secretary, The South Indian Archaka's association, Madras who has been doing a yeomen service by publishing useful Śaiva and Pāñcarātra Āgamas, has now come forward to reprint the Kāmikāgama with the grant of Government of India.

This second edition of Kāmikāgama first part is in devanāgarī script, so that it could be useful not only in South India, but in whole of India and abroad. Due to the high cost of paper, and also seeing the necessity of revising the tamil translation, it has been dropped, and only the text has been reprinted. In this edition some gaps and other major errors have been rectified by the help of other manuscripts.

We offer our grateful thanks to Śiva Śrī Āgamapravīṇa G. Swaminatha Śivācārya of Thiruvaduthurai for having gone through the press copy and to Sri S. Sambandan of French Institute of Indology, Pondicherry for seeing the book through the press. We pray Lord Śiva that he may bless Sri C. Swaminatha Gurukkal with long life and good health so that he could continue his services towards publishing not only the second part of this Agama but also other important Agama texts.

REVIEW

Of the 28 Saiva Agamas, Kamikagama is important. It was revealed by Paramasiva to Pranava who successively taught it to Trikalar, and Harar. The upa-agamas under Kamikam are Vaktaram, Bhairavottaram and Narasimham. This Agamam is called Kamika because it teaches the way to fulfil or smooth by moksa sadhana to burn out the malas. Para-jnana is self-luminous and Apara jnana is obtained through Veda agama bodha. Agamas emanated from the five faces of Parameswara and they are generally called tantras. That which emanated from the Sadasiva face is called mantra.

> Yat ... tantram ... Vastu ...
> ... mantra-tantrakhyam Sadasiva ... gatam

Kamikam is said to contain parardhasankhya tantras (thousand crores). The siddhanta is contained in the four padas Charula, Vama, Bhutatantra and Bhairava. These are essential for bhogamoksa. The kriya-pada portion deals with pratishta-kriya for Sivalinga. Adisaivas with sivadiksa can alone perform this kriya for the good of all. This Karmas should conform to one Agama and not be indiscriminate partly according to one and partly according to another. The South Indian Archaka Sangam, Madras has undertaken to publish this Agama for the benefit of archakas and others.

This will be useful to many. The efforts of the South Indian Archakas' Sangam should be commended and supported. After the publication of some Agamas by Kumaranagar Shanmugasundara Mudaliar over 80 years ago and later by Vedagama Sangam, Pudukkottai, the French Indological Institute, Pondicherry alone is editing several Agamas with notes in French. This edition under review will be useful to a wider section of people.

EXORDIUM

Lord Parameswara of Supreme Bliss is performing the five activities namely creation, preservation, destruction, illusion and salvation for the illumination of the souls, out of divine grace. During such activities the twenty-eight agamas of which the Kamikagama stands first have come out from his upper face. Sastras are giving evidence to this fact.

" [illegible] ... "

Agamas are as sacred as Vedas, as they have also been revealed to this world by Lord Parameswara.

Of all the agamas Kamika is said to be the most essential. This book, in the chapter dealing with 'Mantroddhara' speaks that mantras are the forms of Devas. The mantras ending in 'Humphat' are told to be of masculine form, those ending in 'Swaha' are of feminine form and those ending in 'Namah' are of the form of neuter gender. Many more things like 'Chintamani' have been well explained.

The first half of Kamikagama having seventy-five chapters is being published now. I am extremely delighted to see this publication. It is needless to mention that agamas are inestimable treasures to devoted people. They reveal facts which are very essential for all sorts of people who are of many different types. Lord Parameswara is being praised by devotees as one giving the needy all that they need. What is told about the Lord is quite suitable to the Sacred Books pronounced by him.

With an irrepressible longing that people should be benefited by these Sacred Books, which has given him the untiring zeal for the patient study to plunge into the unfathomed depths of them, even in his declining age, Sivasri Swaminatha Gurukkal, Secretary of the South Indian Archakar Association Madras, residing in Madras, has taken the task of this publication as a result of the combination of his patient intelligent industry with his well earned money. He is known to the pious people as the author and publisher of a lot of books which are very essential for the temples.

Only the first half of Kamikagama has seen the light of the public now. The publication of the remaining half will be of greater use, for which the patrons are requested to contribute very generously.

It is hoped that this valuable book will be very well utilised by the devoted scholars.

We all pray Lord Parameswara to bless Sivasri C. Swaminatha Gurukkal with a long life of hardy constitution and unceasing enthusiasm to continue this useful undertaking which only a few scholars of his type alone can fulfil.

PUBLISHERS' INTRODUCTORY NOTE :

[illegible]

Vedas form the basis for all the Hindu religions of our ancient country "Bharata Khanda", and Saiva Agamas from the basis for Saiva religion. There is no difference between Vedas and Saiva Agamas. Vedas are the common texts, where as the Saiva Agamas are the special texts of Saivism.

Of the 28 basic Siva Agamas, Kamikagama is the first one, which is very widely used in temples all over India and the Kamikagama deals with all the details about temple construction, consecration, daily and festival poojas and other sacred rituals performed in temples. This Agama also deals with rules and regulations that are to be followed in temples. In addition to these, rules relating to the planning of the villages with reference to the location of the temples and rituals to be performed by the individual Archakas and other devotees daily for their own spiritual uplift is also dealt with in detail. In particular, majority of the South Indian temples follow the Kamikagama in performing day to day worship, as well as other special rituals during festive occasions.

As such it is needless to say that, this authoritative text is quite essential to all the Archakas, religious minded public and to the staff engaged in the administration of the temples.

This sacred and useful book was first printed in Grandha Script with Tamil translation by [illegible] Mailai Alagappa Mudaliar in 1909. Now this publication is completely out of stock and is not available even for reference.

Under these circumstances, I, as the Secretary of the South Indian Archakas' Association, Madras formed a committee to publish Kamikagama in Devanagari Script from the manuscripts prepared by me. At this stage Sri T. K. Narayanasamy Naidu of Cuddalore-1, assisted me in getting the manuscripts ready for print and my thanks are due to him. The Agama publishing committee formed by this association has also passed a resolution on 8-8-1974 to publish Kamikagama both in Devanagari and Grandha Scripts.

Accordingly, Siva Sri "Siva Agama Praveena" C. Swaminatha Sivachariar of Tiruvavaduthurai took great pains to edit the manuscripts of the book prepared in Devanagari script from the available Grandha script books and other palm leaf manuscripts gathered with great difficulty from the families of Sivachariars of South India. The printing of this book was undertaken by me first in Devanagari script, because only Devanagari script is well known to the majority of the religious minded people in North India and more so to the people out side India, who evince a keen interest in studying the Agamas.

I am also very proud to make a special mention about the active participation of Sri N. R. Bhatt, Head of Sanskrit Department and his assistant Sri S. Sambanda Sivachariar (both from French Institute of Indology, Pondicherry, who have gone through the proof copies of this publication and corrected them and helped me in getting the book printed in a very short span of time. The composing work was undertaken by me, with the help of a band of devoted workers and the printing was done by "The Solar Works," Madras and I offer my sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those who have helped me in getting this book printed for the benefit of Archakas in particular.

I am also very happy and thankful to the Ministry of Education and Social Welfare, Government of India, New Delhi, who have been kind enough to grant financial assistance to the critical edition of Kamikagama volume I (Poorva bhaga) in Devanagari script.

This book which is published to-day in the Sacred Sannadhi of Sri Ekambareswar of Kanchipuram has a special significance in as much as the Agamas were codified at the Holy Kanchipuram by Sri Sadasiva Sivachariar.

The second volume 'The Uttara Baga' of the Kamikagama is now under print and another publication of Kamikagama Poorva and Uttara Bagas in Grandha script with Tamil summary is also under print, which will be useful to the Grandha knowing Archakas of South India.

I would like to conclude this note with a humble request to all the members of the Archaka Community and the orientalists who evince keen interest in the study of the Agamas, to kindly get these books, study them in detail and use them in daily poojas and rituals. I request the H.R. & C.E. Board authorities also to kindly get these books for the Devasthanams under their administrative control and use them as reference books. This book will also be useful to those who are interested in Hindu religion and who want to have authoritative information about the various rites performed in Siva temples.

I pray Lord Parameswara to shower his blessings to all the people of this world.
